Course Introduction

The course is designed to inspire and develop individuals with effective and motivational training. It will enable practitioners to harness the full potential of a training group by facilitating discussion and participation. How to adapt your training to suit different clients and how to apply different learning processes in order to keep your clientele's attention by delivering simulating sessions are but a few of the skills that you will learn during this course. Furthermore you will build up core competences and take on board the People & Co. model for best practice in a learning environment. The course focuses on the key phases and dimensions of training; contracting; Design and Development; and evaluation.

Schedule:

Due to Covid-19, we have arranged for the upcoming sessions to be held online to ensure the welfare of both trainer and participants. This has been done in the past and has worked very well. We have ensured that the quality of the course delivery remains uncompromised by adapting the course material for online delivery, setting up a reliable online platform and limiting the number of participants.

This course is typically spread over five weeks with five full days of training as a standard configuration, however due to the live streaming configuration, the schedule has been altered.

There is some flexibility in scheduling subject to group consensus
